The United States-China Policy Foundation (USCPF) is a 501(c)(3) nonpartisan, nonprofit, educational organization that promotes understanding between policymakers, government officials, and researchers in the United States and China. The Foundation does not advocate specific policies or endeavor to influence policy decisions, but instead provides information in order to increase awareness and deepen understanding of important issues in U.S.-China relations. The USCPF provides opportunities for practitioners of foreign policy to interact in more diverse and substantial ways and seeks to inform the public through its publications and programs.

Allied during the two world wars, the United States and China drifted apart during the Cold War. Since the reestablishment of relations in 1972, disagreements have continued to cause friction. Unfortunately, these disputes have been exacerbated by misunderstandings and misperceptions that stem from different cultural and political histories.

The U.S.-China Policy Foundation was founded in 1995 to enhance the policy making dialogue between the United States and China. Although other organizations in the United States strive to further understanding of China, the USCPF is the first and only public educational organization devoted exclusively to improving U.S.-China policy exchanges in the nation’s capital. In pursuit of this goal, the Foundation works closely with policymakers, academics, and the public in both countries.

To fulfill its educational mission, the Foundation supports the following activities:

PROGRAMS AND EVENTS:

- Sponsors Seminar Series and Trips to China for Congressional Staff
- Facilitates exchanges between U.S. policymakers and senior Chinese leaders in an unofficial capacity
- Holds public roundtable discussions on current issues of importance in U.S.-China relations
- Produces China Forum, a weekly televised panel discussion on U.S.-China relations

FOUNDATION PUBLICATIONS:

- Publishes The Washington Journal of Modern China, a policy-oriented journal on China
- Publishes the The U.S.-China Policy Review, the Foundation’s newsletter outlining its activities

RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES:

- Provides grants for postgraduate research in China
- Sponsors workshops and trips to China for U.S. secondary school teachers on Chinese culture and history

OTHER:

- Maintains a web site providing weekly news summaries and information about Foundation programs
- Cooperates with other nonprofit organizations in planning and implementing special events

The Foundation is located in the heart of Capitol Hill, in close proximity to the Congress and other government institutions.
